RECOVERY OF ORIGINAL ORE BODY IN CROSSCUT AT 1050 FEET

A most excellent showing is being made on the 1050 level of the Rescue-Eula. It will be remembered that the vein picked up on the 950 level, trending east and west, and which has been the money-maker of the property, decided to flatten from its 45 degree dip beneath that level, even as it did in some of the raises above the ninth floor.

The winze was started down at 45 degrees and when the ore left the winge it was not followed, but the working was continued on the same dip. A crossent was sent out about 40 feet below the 950 and the vein was found to be continuing downward, so the winze was continued to the 1050. Superintendent Moore at that point crosscut again and he picked up the ledge night before last.
